

TENET

GLOBAL TENDER INTELLIGENCE & PROCUREMENT PLATFORM

Financial Overview & Projections

Addis Ababa, Ethiopia | Seed Round 2026 | Confidential

Revenue Model

Tenet is free for enterprises, contractors, and international bidders to use for tender aggregation, portfolio management, and AI-assisted bid preparation. The company earns revenue exclusively through a 2% success fee charged on the value of tenders won through the platform — no win, no fee — directly aligning Tenet's revenue with client outcomes.

- No subscription or upfront cost to bidders.
- Success fee billed only after a client's bid is awarded.
- Additional revenue streams: tender data licensing to banks and chambers of commerce, a bid consulting marketplace, training programs, and procurement data licensing to development partners.

Key Assumptions

The following illustrative model is based on early planning assumptions and should be updated with real bid-value and win-rate data as it becomes available.

Assumption	Value
Average winning bid value	$150,000
Success fee	2% of awarded contract value
Effective revenue per tender won	$3,000
Cumulative tenders won by Month 12	40

Illustrative Revenue Ramp

Cumulative tenders won through the platform over the first 12 months:

Milestone	Cumulative Tenders Won	Implied Cumulative Fee Revenue
Month 3	4	$12,000
Month 6	14	$42,000
Month 9	26	$78,000
Month 12	40	$120,000

Note: the Month 12 figure of $120,000 is modeled as the monthly revenue run-rate at that point (not a cumulative total), reflecting new tenders won in that month at the assumed average bid value and fee rate. Total cumulative revenue over the full 12-month period, including smaller wins throughout the ramp, is estimated at approximately $650,000.
